Dear Harmon:

I am pleased to tell you than plans for the Minor J. Coon Symposium are progressing smoothly, and will be held here November 2-3, 1990. Practically all the invited speakers have accepted, and as you will see from the enclosed list of speakers and their topics, we should have a very good meeting. When I contacted you last year, you were hopeful that your company would be able to provide some financial support, which would of course be acknowledged in the program and future announcements about the Symposium. I realize that obtaining this support may take some time, but I would appreciate hearing from you about the likelihood of such support. Several companies have made commitments in the region of $1,500-$3,000. In the event that you are able to provide support, checks should be made out to The University of Michigan - Minor J. Coon Symposium.

Looking forward to seeing you here in November.

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Vince
